

Sustainable House Tour & Potluck
Sat. Oct. 22nd, Noon to 4 pm

*Many of us agree that going forward, architecture must take sustainability into account.
At the same time, we can worry about losing something,
that we will have to sacrifice aesthetics to energy efficiency.
Nobody wants to live in a science experiment.
But Earth-friendly design can adapt to any style.
Come see for yourself.*

Architect Chris Kellogg and artist Helen Kaar invite you to see their home, Half Moon House and discuss environmental design with them.
